Kernan Recognizes 2002 Hoosier Hospitality Award Winners

INDIANAPOLIS — Lt. Governor Joe Kernan today awarded hospitality workers from more than 20 Indiana counties, with the 2002 Lieutenant Governor's Hoosier Hospitality Awards.

Awarded by the Indiana Department of Commerce's Tourism Division, the awards honor individuals who go out of their way to make guests feel welcome while visiting a tourism attraction or hospitality business. This year, 22 winners were honored from throughout the state, with no more than one winner per county. A complete list of winners is attached.

"These front-line employees make tourism work in Indiana and are true examples of what Hoosier Hospitality is all about," said Kernan, who leads the state's tourism promotion efforts. "Tourism is an integral part of our economy and these individuals help to sustain and grow the industry by making our visitors feel welcome. We honor them for their service, and thank them for all they do."

The Indiana Tourism and Film Development Division stimulates visitor spending and economic growth by developing and promoting quality travel experiences in Indiana. The most recent economic impact study shows that the Indiana tourism industry supports more than 107,800 full-time jobs, generates more than $6.1 billion in visitor spending annually and attracts more than 53 million guests each year.
